

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

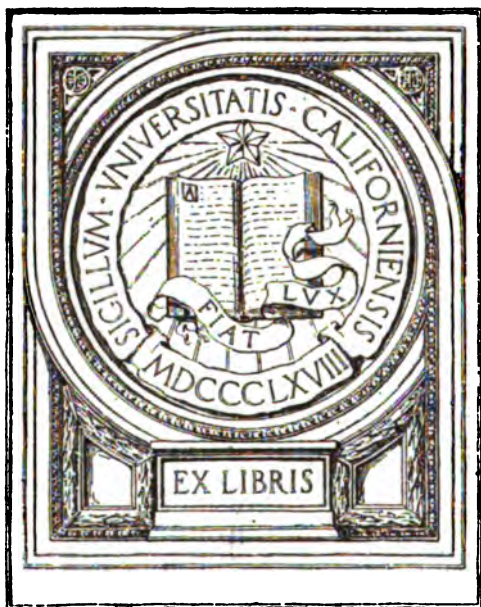

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

APPLICATION OF AGENCY TARIFFS

INTRODUCTION

There are in effect at the present time many thousand freight tariffs applicable upon traffic moving between various points in the United States. It is one of the most important duties of the traffic man to be familiar with the application of some part of this large number of tariffs to his own particular work. By far most of these tariffs are "local" in their application; that is, they apply on traffic moving between points located on the same line of a railroad. For various reasons it is not possible to put into permanent form any considerable amount of information relative to the application of these local tariffs. In addition to the local tariffs, however, there are a considerable number of tariffs which are known as "agency" or "common" tariffs. These tariffs carry rates between competitive points and are issued by tariff-issuing agencies. It is possible to give information relative to the application of these agency tariffs with some degree of accuracy, and therefore it seems to the writer desirable to prepare, for the benefit of the traffic men in this country, a publication in which is indicated the general application of the most important agency tariffs.

The Atlas of Railway Traffic Maps, which constitutes part of the course in Interstate Commerce and Railway Traffic, will be found of considerable assistance in determining the territorial outline of many of the tariff-issuing associations. Map 1, for example, shows the boundaries of the three interstate classification territories and of Western Trunk Line, Trans-Missouri, Southwestern Tariff Committee, and Pacific Freight Tariff Bureau territories. Maps 2, 5, 6, and 8 will also be found to portray certain other territories.

One reason why it is possible to give fairly definite information relative to the application of agency tariffs is because it is quite generally true that what is known as the "series" plan is used in numbering agency publications; that is, a tariff is given a number, and this number is continued with each reissue by the use of a letter appearing before or after the number. For example, suppose that the first issue of an agency tariff is 50. This tariff when reissued would become 50-A, while this in turn, when reissued, would become 50-B. In view of this fact, it is always possible to locate definitely the desired tariff. It might be said, at this point, that certain of the agency tariffs are not designated by series numbers, but by a new number with each reissue. In the description of the various tariffs given in this publication, the author has indicated by a dagger (+) those tariffs which are not designated by a series number.

It should be understood that the application of the various tariffs which has been given is necessarily somewhat general in its nature. To a considerable extent the application of the various tariffs as it appears on the title-page of the tariff has been used. It would not be possible to give in detail the exact application of each tariff. It is believed, however, that the information given will be of value to all traffic men.

Information relative to the Application of Agency Tariffs may be divided into two classes. (1) It may be desirable to know the scope of the tariffs issued by some specific association, such as the Central Freight Association, in which case reference should be made to Section A, where an extended description of the tariff will be shown. (2) It is more frequently the case that the traffic man desires to know when agency tariffs apply from a specific state, regardless of what association issues the publications. Section B shows a list of tariffs according to the states from which they apply. In Section B no attempt has been made to show the complete information as to the territory "from" which tariffs apply, but such complete information can be secured by referring to the item number in Section A which is shown in parentheses. Where tariffs apply "between," the same description is shown in Sections A and B and it is not necessary to refer to Section A. It may not be amiss to suggest that the traffic man will often do well to take advantage of this opportunity to learn something of the application of tariffs from localities other than his own particular location.

The distribution of agency issues is accomplished through the office of the issuing agent. The tariffs may be procured in two ways: (1) by direct application to the association and (2) by application to one of the initial lines. In the first instance a request should be addressed to the chairman of the association, while in the second it should be submitted to the general freight agent of the carriers. The request for tariffs should be addressed as above on commercial letter-heads bearing the occupation, name, and address of the applicant. Wholesale requests should never be made. Requests should be confined to specific issues in which you have an interest, as there are many tariffs issued by these agents which in no way interest the shipping public as a whole. The carriers will generally supply tariffs where actual need is clearly shown.

Agent E. B. Boyd issues tariffs in three distinct series, viz.: Gulf Foreign Freight Committee, commencing with number 1,000; Illinois Freight Committee with number 500; and Western Trunk Line with number 1.

The Trans-Missouri Freight Bureau Territory is now known as the Western Trunk Line Territory, Western Division, and tariffs now issued over the name of W. A. Poteet, Agent, will, as reissued, be over the name of E. B. Boyd.
